

EMMA'S CRAZY DAY

Written by Bel Richardson

Illustrated by Mykyta Harets

It is Emma's birthday.
Emma gets a present.

Emma gets a big, square present. Emma tears the wrapping off.

It is a box.

It is a very big box.

Emma picks off tape.

It is a scooter!

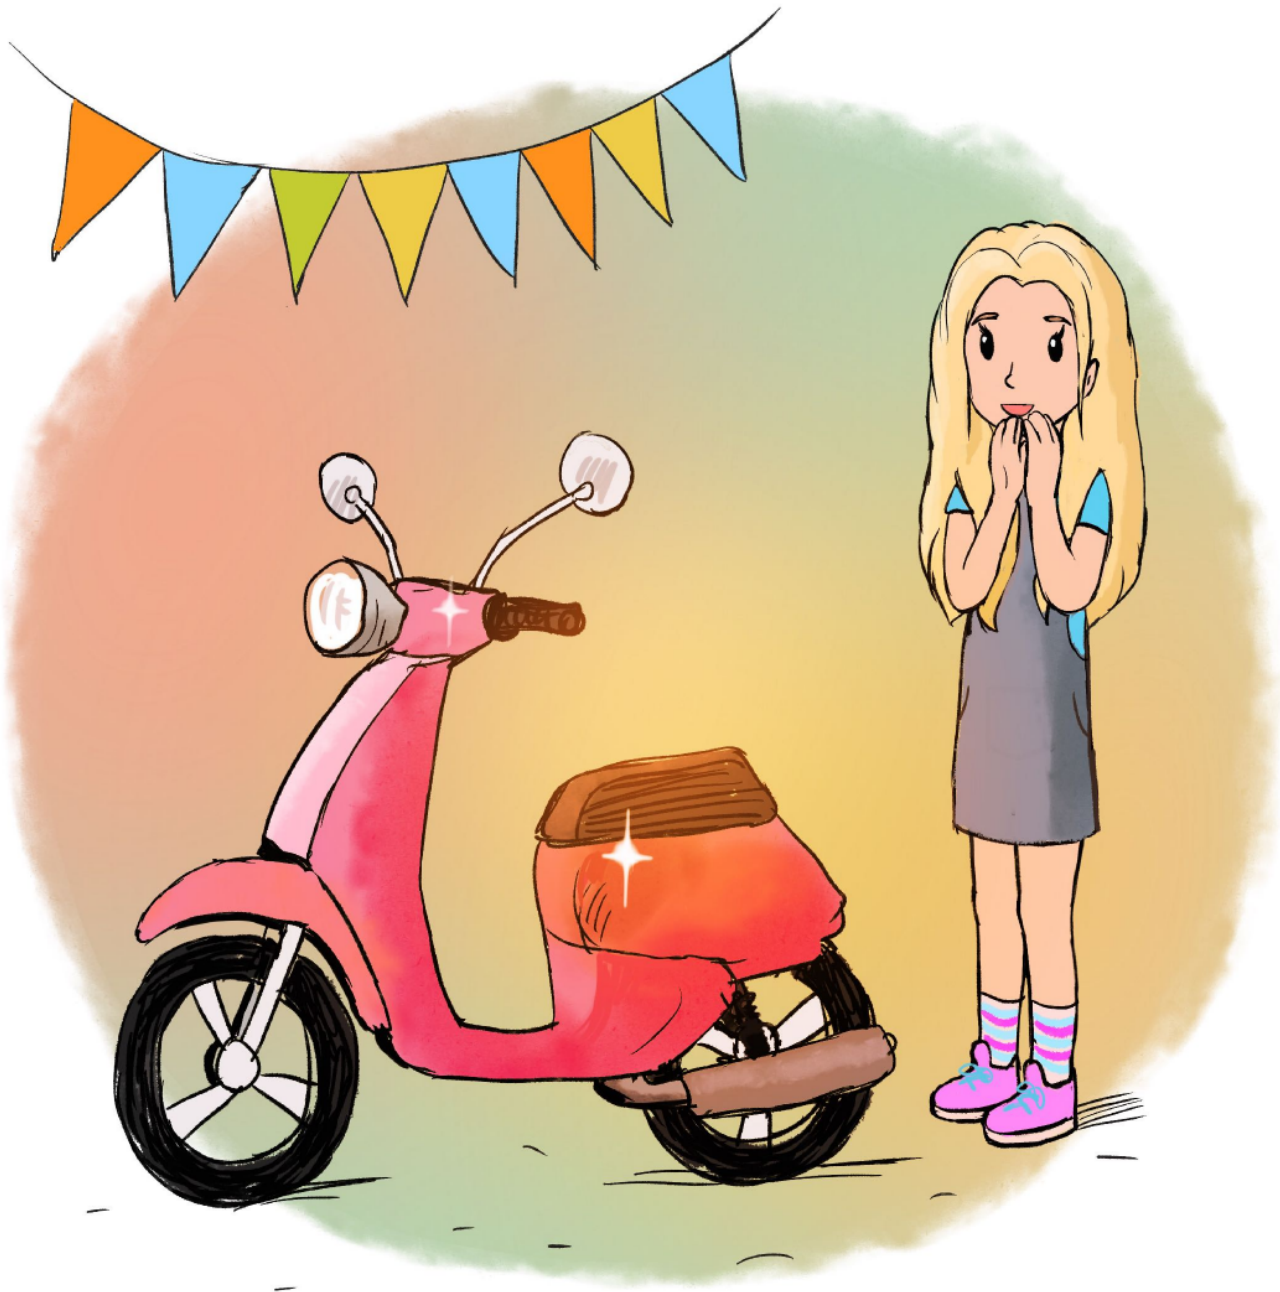

A new scooter!

A big kid scooter!

Best of all, it is a pink scooter.

Emma looks at its wheels.

Emma looks at its handles.

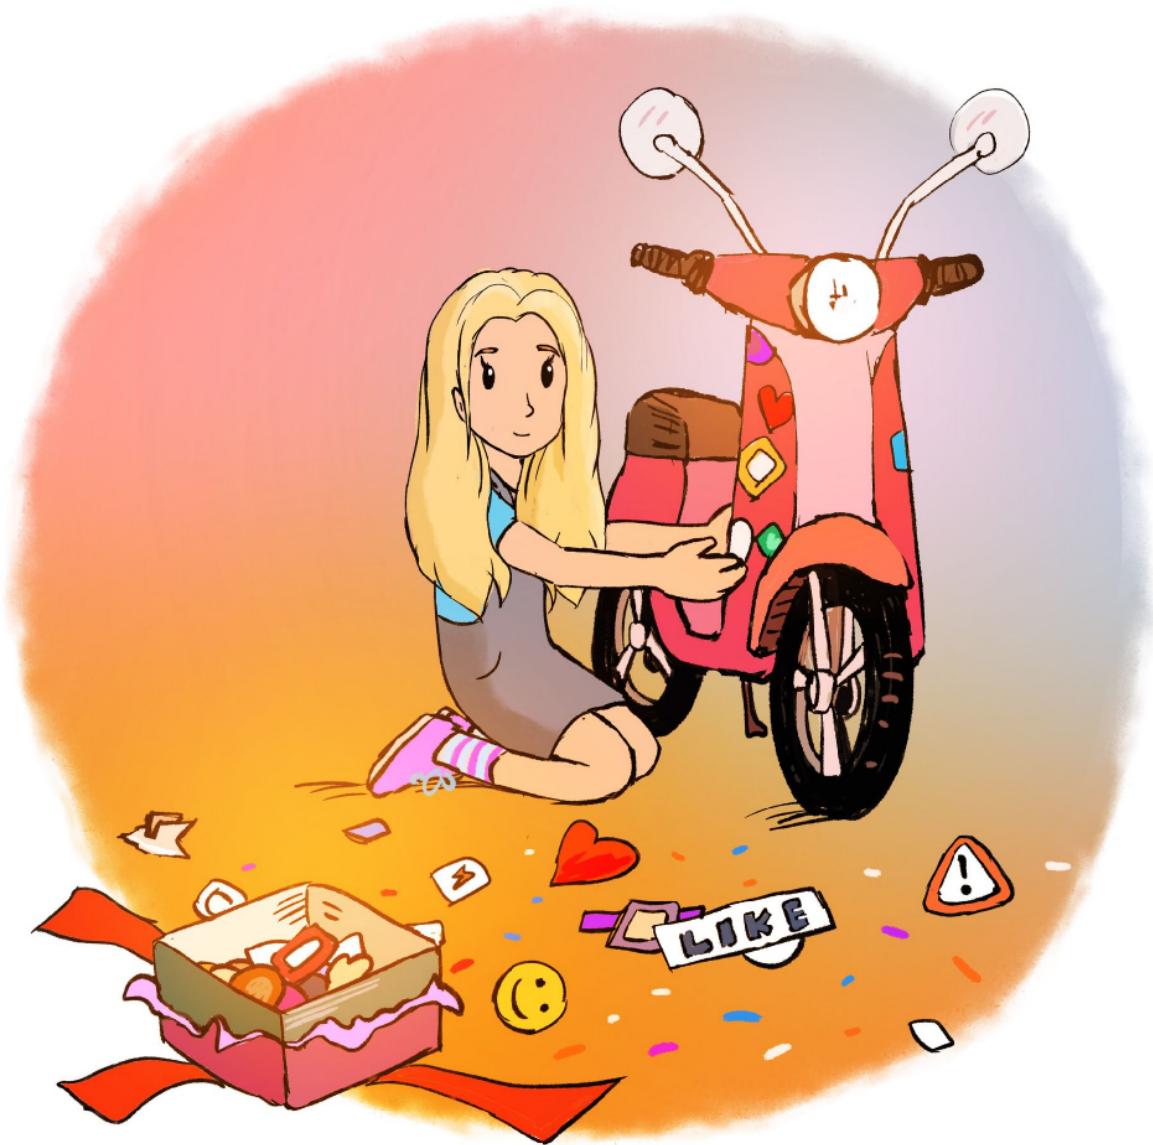

It is an excellent scooter.

Emma gets a present. It is a little present. Emma tugs the wrapping off.

It is stickers!

Stickers for a scooter!

Emma puts stickers all over her new scooter.

Emma gets a present.

It is not big.

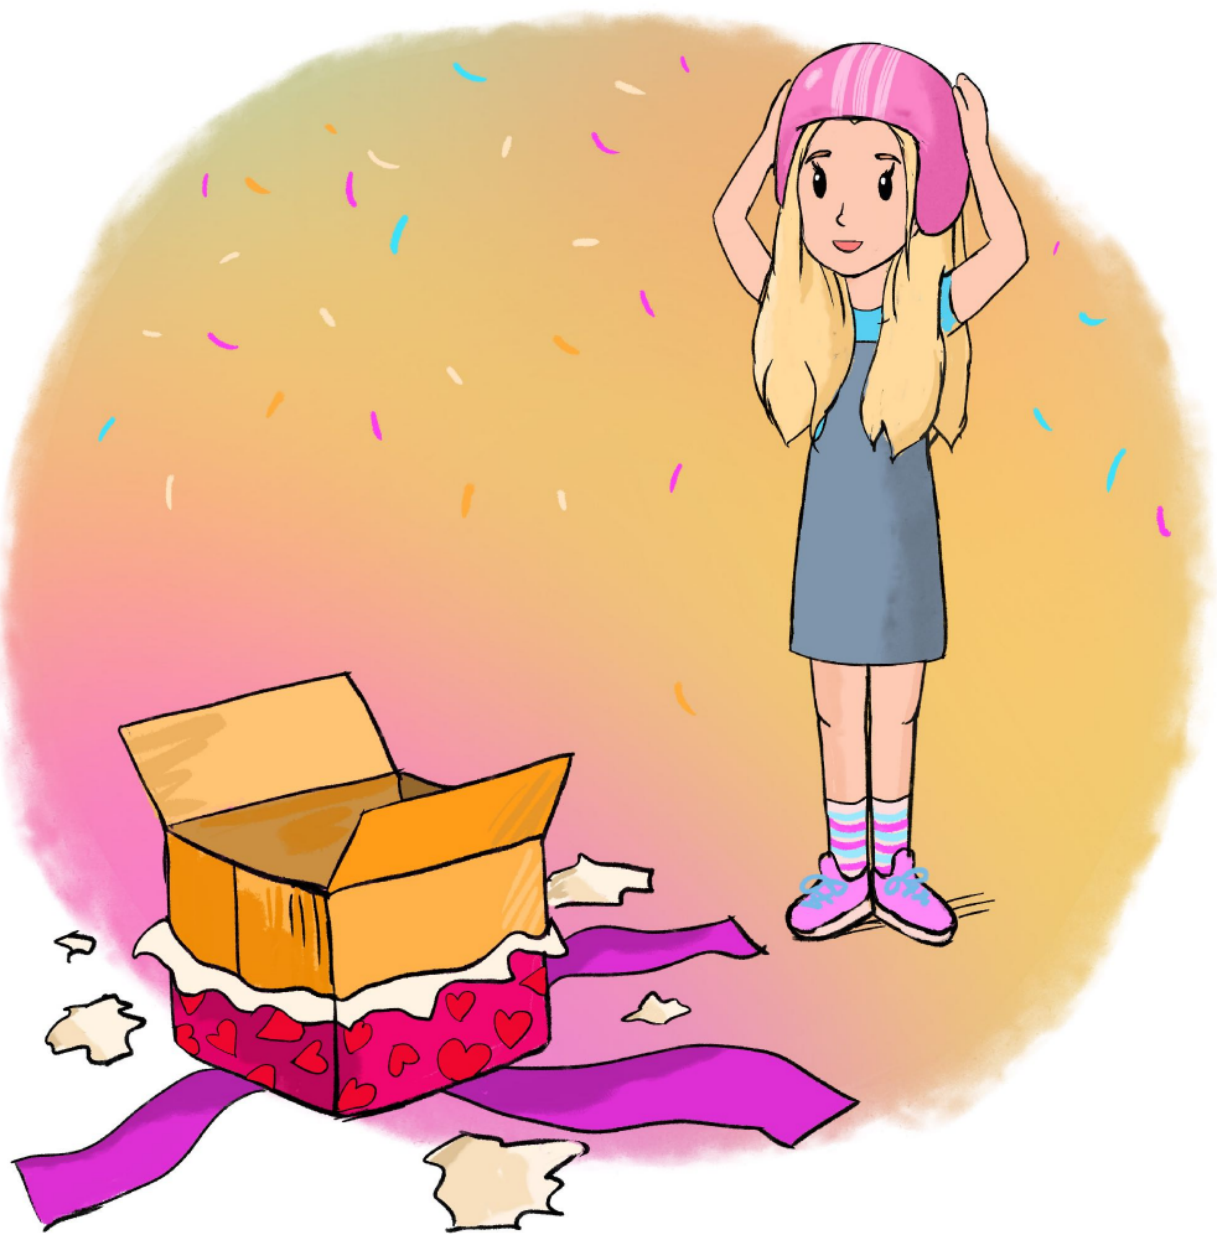

It is not little.

It is in-between.

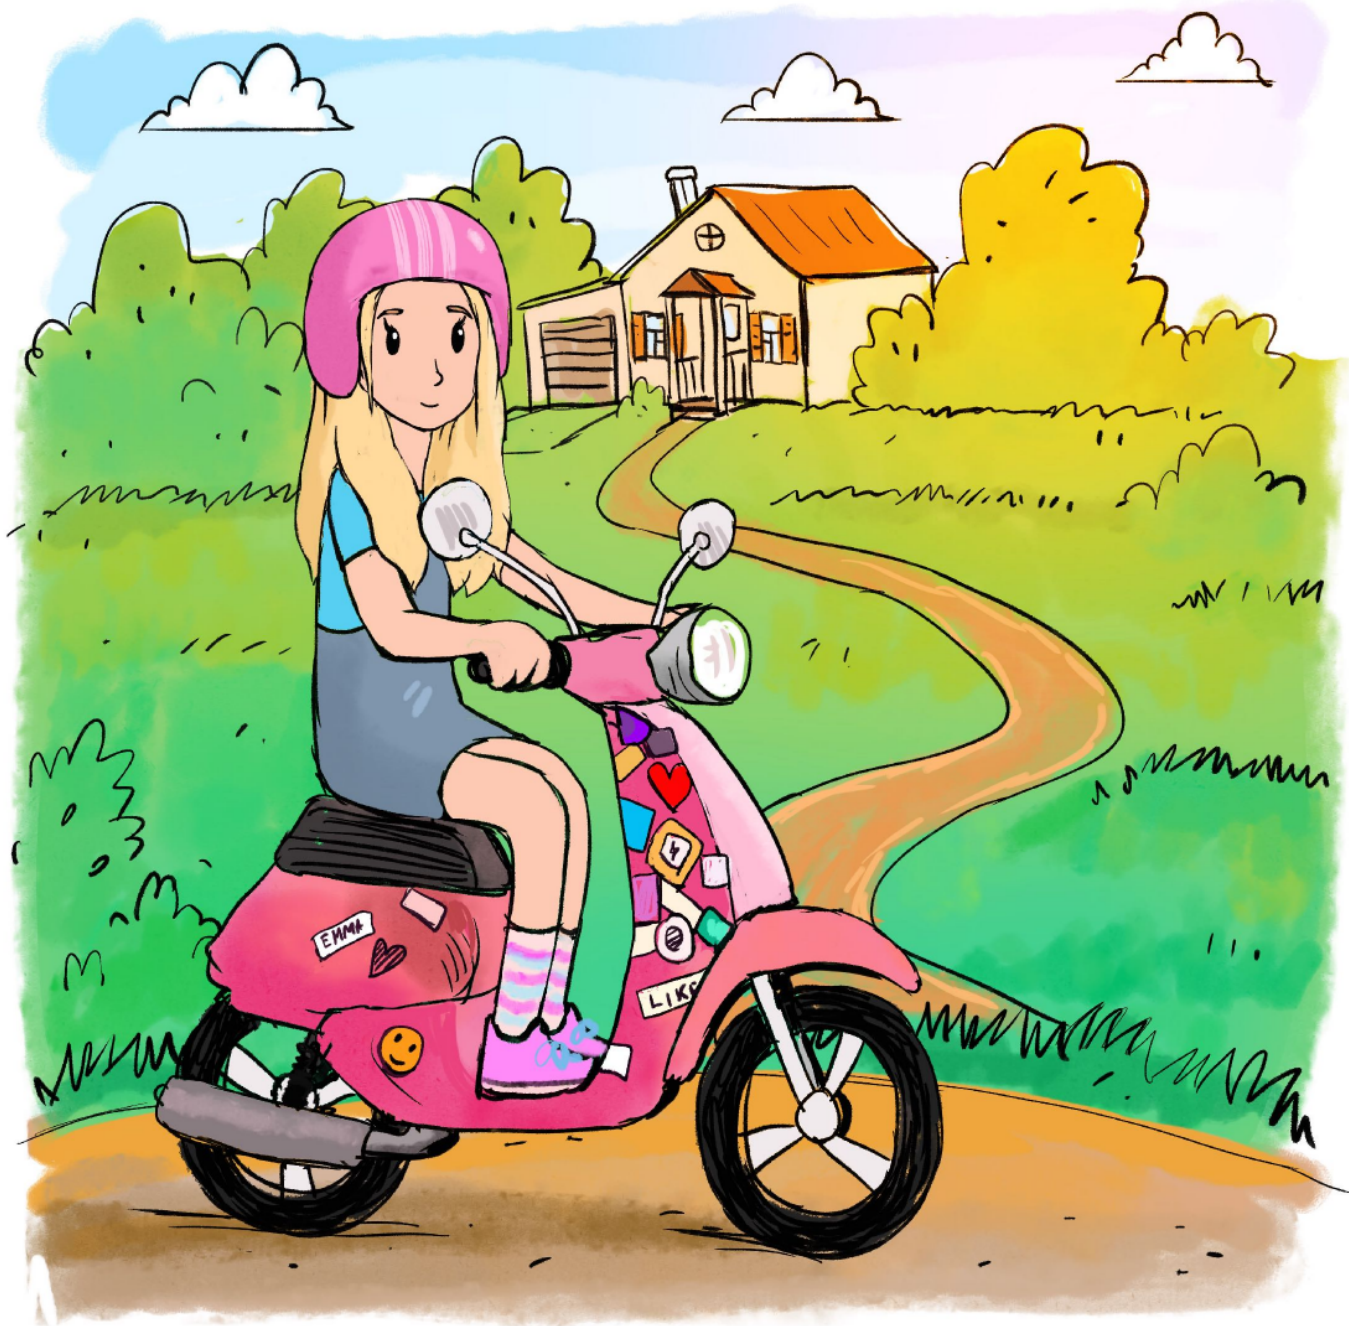

Emma rips off the wrapping.

It is a helmet.

It is a pink helmet.

A helmet keeps you safe.

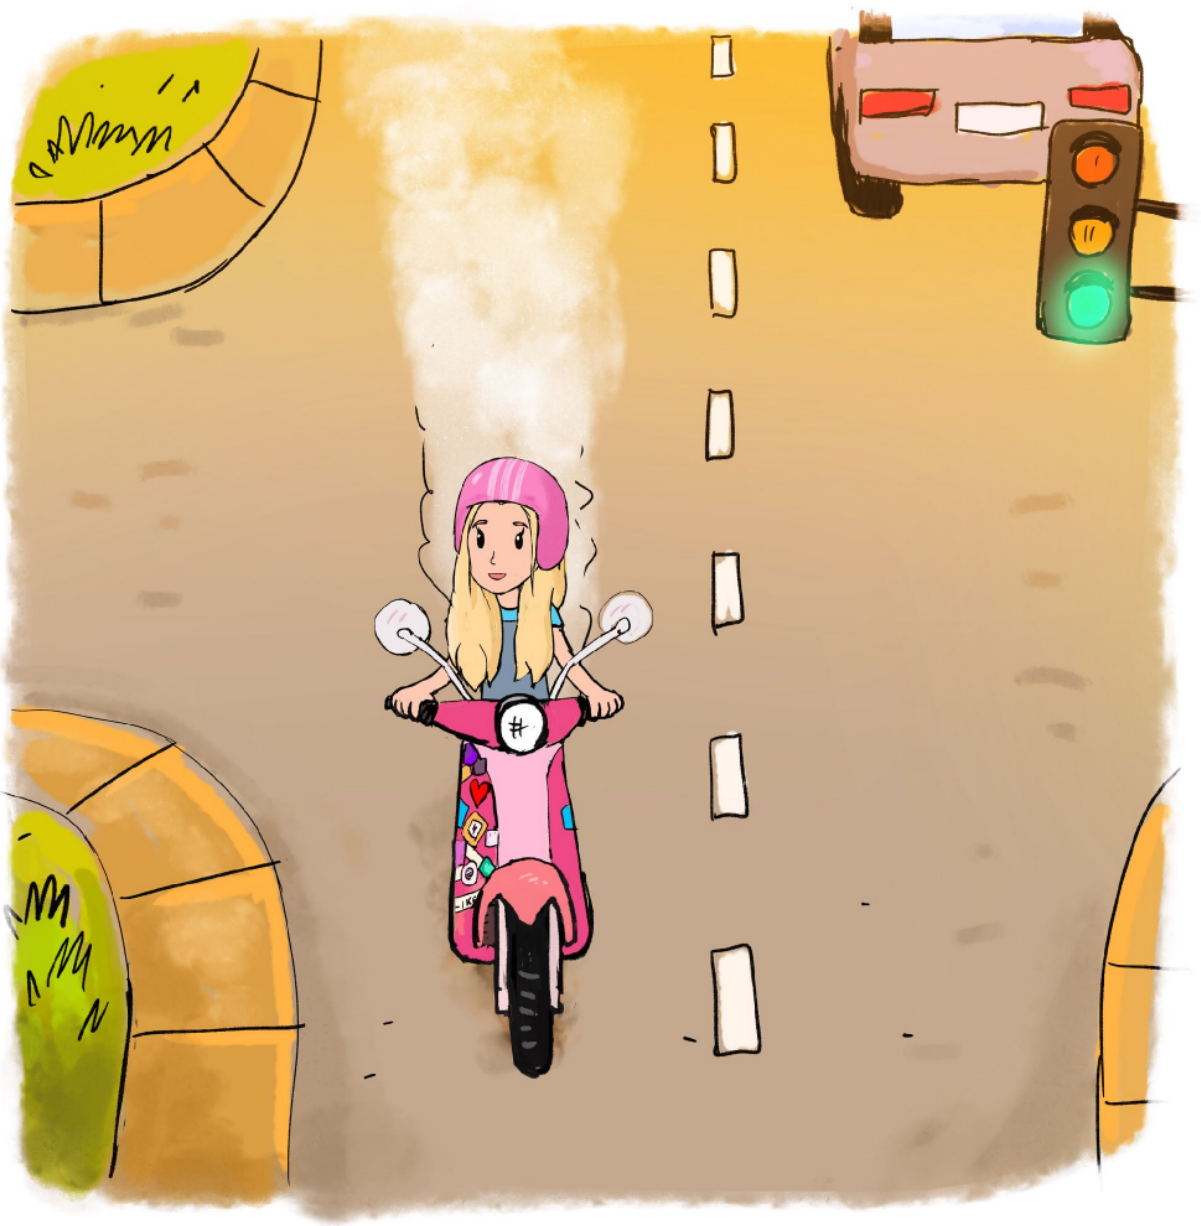

Now it is time for a ride.

Emma takes her scooter up a hill. Emma puts on her pink helmet. No cars are driving by.

Emma steps on.

Emma grabs the handles.

Emma kicks off.

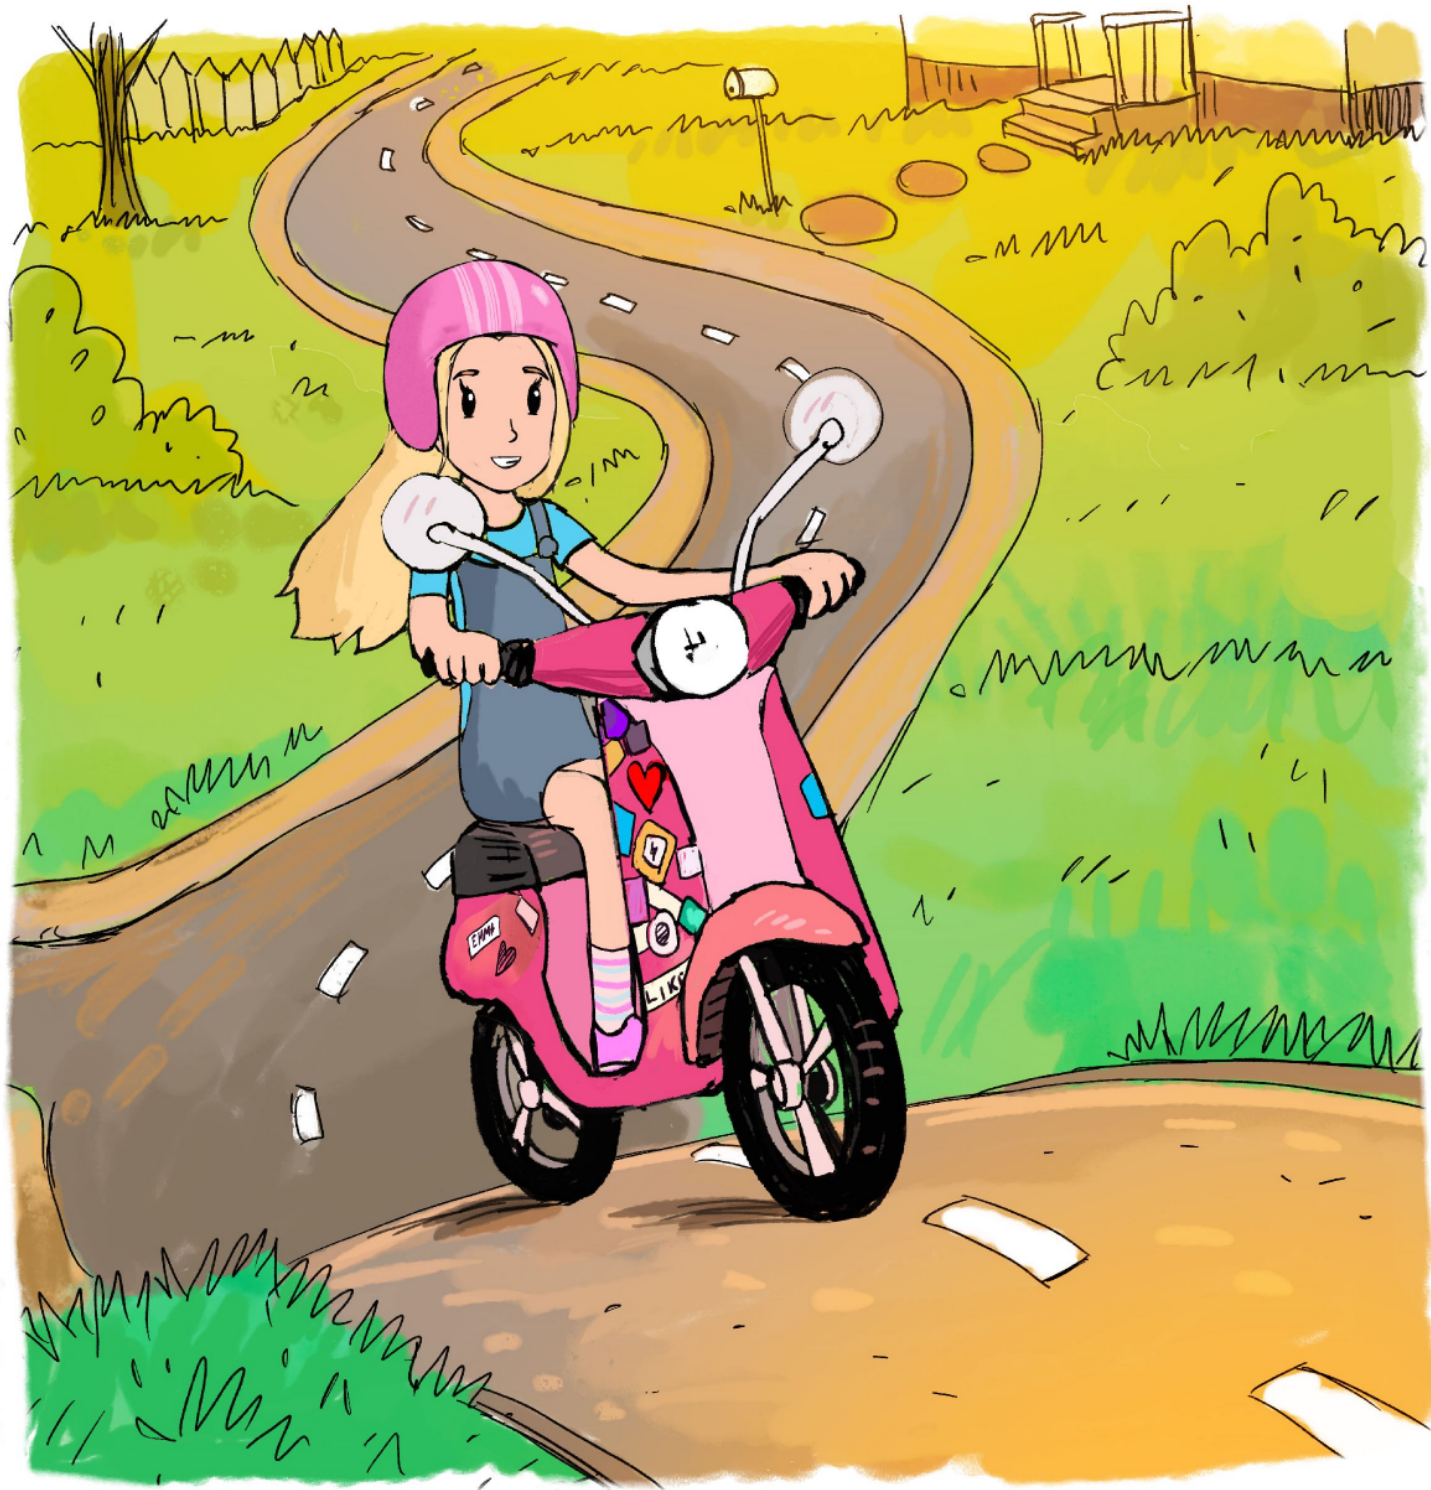

A crazy, pink, scooter girl
zooms down a hill.

A crazy, pink, scooter girl turns around a corner.

A crazy pink scooter girl
hits a bump.

This crazy, pink, scooter girl did a jump!

Back up a hill.

Check helmet.

Check for cars.

Zoom, turn, bump, jump!

Emma screams for joy.

This pink scooter is her best present ever.

The sun is nearly down.

Time for home.

No crazy scooting if it is dark.

Emma eats dinner.

Emma sleeps until morning.

Then, a crazy, pink, scooter girl will ride again!